It Gets Better

Sunday 1:00-2:30 PM

Main Events Lan Cen

Fellow guests, staff, and attendees will come together in this panel to discuss the serious nature of bullying and intolerance (in fandoms, cosplaying, sexual orientation, and more) and how you can make a difference. The "It Gets Better" project began in response to a string of teen suicides by kids who were bullied because they were perceived to be gay. Sadly bullying is something that happens to one in four teens, and while some problems may seem greater than the you, none of them are greater than all of us. It really does get better! THIS PANEL IS AVAILABLE

FOR ANYONE, WITH OR WITHOUT A BADGE.

Shuto Con Commitment Ceremony

Sunday 11:00 AM-Noon

Spring is finally here and love is in the air at Shuto Con (as it always has been)! For many years now we have had couples tell us how they met at Shuto Con and fell in love, and we wanted to give back to those loving couples by offering a mass Commitment Ceremony*, open to all couples regardless of sexual orientation/preference! Couples are encouraged to arrive 30 minutes early so they can take their place on the stage/floor. When the ceremony starts all badge members are welcome to attend this event so they can participate/watch and congratulate the loving couples!

*A commitment ceremony is a non-binding way to express your devotion to one another without the legal constraints of marriage. If couples are desiring to marry one another, they will have to do so outside of Shuto Con, as we are not able to provide that type of service at this time.
